Playing The Game

The object of the game is to get everyone to admit to doing crazy stuff, get drunk, and have fun while doing it. The youngest player begins the game by rolling the dice, and moving forward his/her token the number on the dice. After he/she has completed their turn, the player to his/her right goes next. When a player lands on "Draw An I've Never Card," that player draws a card from the pile and reads the question aloud. For example: Question: I've never had sex on a waterbed? If True: Move forward 1 space. If Not True: Take a drink! After the player has answered the question and moved according to the card drawn, his/her turn is over, and the next player goes. To win, the player who gets to the "Finish" first wins the game. Sometimes players may lie, a player caught in a lie (at least two other players must agree to the accusation) is punished (e.g. finish his/her drink, do a shot, move back 2 spaces). Use your imagination!

Frequently Asked Questions

Question: When playing the I've Never...?® Game, how big of a drink do you have to take?

Answer: That's entirely up to you. You can take a big swig or a small sip.

Question: When answering the I've Never...?® questions, do all of the players answer the question or just the one reading the question?

Answer: Only the person reading the question gets to answer it! Have fun!

Game Variation - The XXX Version

I've Never...?® makes an even better STRIP game. Same rules apply as above, but with one exception - if a player did do the claim then he/she has to remove one piece of clothing and takes a drink. With a strip game, a liar will be forced to lose two articles of clothing.
